ANNOUNCEMENT
International Recognition and Scholarship Award
Applications are now being accepted for 2017

The International Association of Women Police sponsors a scholarship award each year for a serving Police woman to attend the annual IAWP Training Conference. The International Scholarship Award is a competitive award given to an outstanding Police Woman employed outside the U.S. or Canada.

The objectives of the award are to:

- To increase understanding of the roles of women police throughout the world.
- To encourage international participation in the International Association of Women Police.
- To promote membership in the International Association of Women Police through the recipient of this award within her region.
- To increase international understanding and awareness of women in law enforcement and the International Association of Women Police.
- To improve women's ability to excel within criminal justice by ensuring that the achievements of women and their contributions to criminal justice and to society are recognized; raising the profile of gender issues to organizations and government; and encouraging networking and peer support.

IAWP shall pay the actual costs of a hotel room, visa application expenses and economy class airfare from the recipient's country to the conference city; in 2017 the conference city is Cairns, Australia (www.iawp2017.org or 2017.IWLEC@police.qld.gov.au). In addition, IAWP shall provide the recipient $500 for food, incidentals, and other sundry expenses for use while at the conference. All other incidentals are the responsibility of the recipient.
