FROM: Chaplain Tamia Dow

A mother's love is an amazing thing and one of the saddest things in life is when a child predeceases their parents.

Sadly the son of IAWP Member Trinidad and Tobago Police Department Retired Senior Superintendent Christie McMillan was tragically taken on Wednesday evening.

Her son, Trinidad and Tobago Police Constable Kevin McMillan, was ambushed and murdered in an off-duty incident.

The IAWP is a family and when one of us loses a family member we all feel it.

Please pray for and send positive thoughts, energy, and messages to the McMillan family and the friends and colleagues of Kevin McMillan as they mourn the loss and celebrate the life of this fallen warrior.

Christine is a strong woman of faith and is very encouraged to know that people around the world are lifting her family up in prayer.

Christine McMillan can be reached by telephone at 1-868-665-4782 or by cell at 1-868-497-7800

Funeral arrangements will be announced as soon as they become available.

Recently you have seen me request for prayers when I announce unfortunate and tragic situations. I know not everyone is aware of how to pray or do not know what to say.

I have put together prayers from different faiths on the Chaplain's Corner (located in the Members Only website).

If you do not see a prayer from your faith please forward it to me and I will add it to the Chaplain's Corner so that it will aid others when they are seeking the words to say when they pray.

Prayer is a basic conversation with your higher power.

You are sending your positive energy and your heartfelt request into the atmosphere (some people even say the universe) as you say the words and think the thoughts. Your higher power will hear and come into agreement with you.

Prayer brings comfort to both the praying person and to the person or thing being prayed for.

Feel free to pray any of the prayers in your time of need to help to comfort you.

Also know my prayer team is praying for each and every IAWP member and all law enforcement officers worldwide.

Take care of yourselves and be safe.
