International Association of Women Police Foundation Announces Recipients of 2020 Annual Recognition Programme.

The International Association of Women Police Foundation is pleased to announce the 2020 recipients of our Annual Recognition Programme.

Each year the IAWP receives nominations from across the globe for women in policing who are deserving of recognition for their contribution to policing and to their local communities. We also receive nominations for men to be considered for our 'male award in support of UN 'HeForShe' campaign. It recognises a male officer or civilian employed by a Law Enforcement Agency or Police Force, who has made a significant contribution and commitment to the advancement of women in policing. The quality of the nominations across all the award categories creates a very difficult task for the selection committee, and 2020 again provided the committee with a real challenge as every one of the nominees is deserving of recognition.

IAWP President Deborah Friedl, "IAWP has, for the past 105 years, promoted the role of women in policing, championing change to enable women to play their full part in delivering an inclusive service to local communities. Our belief is that women need to be recognised for their contribution. Without our annual recognition programme some phenomenal women, and men, would go unrecognized for their efforts".
